Internet Safety

In last week's newsletter I gave some information about how parents can put content controls on their children's internet access. Hopefully you found this information useful. In the newsletter this week I am including a link to information on the main social media sites. This information includes age restrictions, content guide and information on how to activate restrictions and safety features. As there is too much information to reproduce in our newsletter, please follow the link below to access this information. Social media seems to be the main way that teenagers now communicate, and where many of the problems begin.

I have also made arrangements for an assembly run by the NSPCC to take place in the Spring Term. They will also be running a parent information session as well. I will let you have further information about the parent meeting as soon as I can confirm a date.

Parish Newsletter

For those of you who receive the Parish Newsletter, this month my contribution talks about the PD Day we had at the start of this half term on the use of the outdoor environment to enhance the children's learning. One example of this is the first session of Welly Wednesday for Class 2 which took place this week. I have included a couple photos below showing some of Class 2's activities during that session.

School Family and Individual Photographs

Stars of the Week
