Friday 17th November

Stars of the Week

Olivia Harrison-Jones, Elijah Abbotts, Elizabeth Ashton, Zachary Morgan and Esme Jones for their enthusiasm and creativity when making their salt dough characters for a nativity scene.

Imogen Hill for working really hard and for always trying her best in everything she does. Imogen wrote a fantastic non-chronological report on London.

Elise Swannick for always being very polite and for having super manners.

Cadel Kennedy and Lottie Lee for excellent progress in their swimming lessons.

Alfie Guntrip for being enthusiastic, hardworking and for displaying an excellent attitude in class all week. Alfie has made impressive progress with his handwriting too.

Michaela Roberts for always trying her best and challenging herself and for helping others with her lovely explanations.

Charlie Taaffe for a continued and sustained effort across all subjects. Charlie's attitude is first class and this is reflected in his work.

Isabelle Hanrahan for showing a much improved level of concentration this week. This has resulted in huge progress in her Maths. Keep up the good work Isabelle.
