Dear Mrs Morgan,

I am writing to you because the world (including Shropshire) is deeply concerned about the rapid increase of fossil fuels being burnt. The relevant reason we are burning fossil fuels is the ever growing demand for food, water and energy. This has risen quite a lot since the 21st century.

Are you informed that the Antarctic conditions in Lapland was normal until 2018: when there was a lot of wild fires which should not happen. Especially in an Antarctic environment like Lapland. The Amazon's rain forest (the lungs of the world) is being cut down and the more trees we have the more oxygen we will have to live.

I hope that I have highlighted the most important parts of climate change. If I were you I would use my public voice to bring climate change to the front of our minds.

Yours Sincerely
