Dear Mr Morgan,

I am writing to express my deep concern for our climate. The problem is we are not taking action. As a consequence to climate change, everyone is being affected, whether it's maybe from energy or natural disasters. I urge you to take action.

Over 25% species are dying a day; this is more than a heartbeating  $3 \frac{3}{4} \times 40$  a year. A big factor of climate change is burning fossil fuels such as oil, coal and energy. These heat the atmosphere with an alarming rate, 9% of the polar ice caps are melting a year. Another problem is deforestation. Trees capture  $\text{CO}_2$ , something that harms the atmosphere.

Even though hope seems lost, you with your public voice, can make a difference. You can encourage at the upcoming election, were people to listen, we can make a change. I am sure you agree.

Yours sincerely,
